□ □ □

Ex-comic Dick Gregory tells a federal judge he can't afford to repay $105,000 he owes an old friend because he has other debts totaling more than $1 million. Gregory borrowed $40,000 from his friend in 1979, with agreed-upon interest raising the total to today's level.

On the list of Gregory's other creditors: the IRS, American Express and several banks.

□ □ □

9/7/90